Riesman Discussion Slated For Monday

By Dave McMillan

The Lonely Crowd by David Riesman will be the subject for the second Chapel Board Seminar to be held Monday, March 7, at Sigma Phi. The discussion will be led by President Robert McEwen and Assistant Professor of Political Science Donald Riddle.

The first seminar was held on Wednesday at Psi Upsilon. Professor Hayner discussed "Keirkegaard and Sartre" with a group of about 18 students.

The rest of this year's program which has been set up for the Chapel Board by a committee headed by Stanley Schade, '55, will include on March 17, an analysis of, "Alfred North Whitehead and the Traditional Proofs for the Existence of God," by Professor Blyth. Professor Nesbitt will lead a consideration of The Power of Positive Thinking by Norman Vincent Peale on March 24, which will be followed on April 6, by a program titled, "Dylan Thomas" with Professor Barrett. The seminar program will conclude on April 21 when Professor Piano will discuss Dante's Inferno.

The discussion Monday night will concern a book which has aroused a large amount of literary and sociological criticism. The Lonely Crowd's author, David Riesman, is a graduate of Harvard Law School. He has worked as a law clerk for Justice Brandies, has been a deputy assistant district attorney for New York County, and taught law at the University of Buffalo. He is now professor of social science at the University of Chicago. While in this position he received a grant from the Carnegie Corporation to conduct a study of American society under the sponsorship of the Yale University Committee on National Policy. His book was published in 1950. It was subtitled, "A study of the changing American Character."

The author says in the introduction to his book, "Mainly this book is based on our experience of living in America, the people we have met, the jobs we have held, the movies we have seen. This book, therefore, represents an effort to interpret and organize our experience of contemporary America and its relation to the past and the prospective future. Professor Riddle, in commenting on this said, "It is not a definite statement of American character. It is an attempt to deliniate certain aspects of American culture which seemed to be important to Reisman. It contains many insights into our national character."

Students' Drama To Be Presented By Charlatans

One Act Plays To Be Offered

The cast for the annual Charlatan production of student written one act plays have been announced. Rehearsals have begun for the plays, which will be presented in the round in Soper Sommons March 10-12.

Frank Rizzo, '58, has described his one act play, The Gilded Cage, as dealing, "with the struggle of a young man against the selfish ambition of his father. A last chance to leave his Bohemian existence to return to his old life is offered by an elder brother. Their argument is the turning point of the play." Bob Mead, '56, wil portray the elder brother, and Ben Carroll, '56, the young man.

Mike Sundell, '56, is directing La Fille Aux Cheveux De Lin by James L. Cramer, '57. Sundell has announced that Cramer will play the male lead, Albelder. Mrs. Virginia Park will portray Lise, while Lyell Galbraith, '57, will be Reger; Richard Mead, '57, the Other Man; and Hack Rhett, '58, the Soldier. Sundell describes the play as taking place in Berlin in 1943. "It tells of a musician who will not cooperate with the Gestapo until he falls in yove with a girl who has been connected with the Resistance. To protect the girl he feels he must cooperate with the Gestapo. This leads to a tragic conclusion. The theme throughout the play is the lasting effect of music."

The Sane Asylum is being directed by Ted Davis, '55. It was written by Sam Sade, '56, and Klaus Birkenhauer, a special student. "The play is the story of a group of men disturbed with the world. They feel they can judge mankind and finally withdraw from society into a set of rooms where they eventually end up insane," said Davis. The group of men will include George Kerr, '55; Alfred Prettyman, '56; Robert Ward, '55; Gerald Van Dijk,

Mizener to Speak On Noted Novelist Next Wednesday

Fitzgerald Topic For Lecture

Professor Arthur M. Mizener of Cornell University will lecture to the College community on March 9 on the American novelist F. Scott Fitzgerald. Mr. Mizener wrote a biography of Fitzgerald in 1951, and has made an extensive study of this American novelist of the 1920's.

Dean's Letter Praises Work Of IFC On Off Campus Trips

Highlighting the February 28 meeting of the Inter-fraternity council was the reading of a letter, written by Dean Tolles and the Academic Council, concerning fraternity initiation activities. The letter, which praised the IFC for limiting pledge trips, asked the group to continue working for the abolishment of off-campus activities during "hell week." The letter is printed in its entirety in another part of the paper.

Plans for the student-faculty wives' bridge tournament were discussed. The tournament will be held on Friday, March 4. The IFC also decided to ask the Social Committee not to send out advance publicity on House-parties to other colleges. This, the council feels, would cut down the number of visitors to the Hill from other neighboring colleges during party weekends.

Elections for new IFC officers will be held at the next meeting.

The following letter was mailed by Dean Winton Tolles to IFC President Pieter Van Volkenburgh and was the topic of discussion at last week's council meeting. The Dean's wishes and ideas on Initiation Week coincide quite closely to the original resolution passed by the IFC, but amended by later vote of that group.—Ed.

Mr. Pieter VanVolkenburgh
Pres., Inter Fraternity Council
Sigma Phi Place
Hamilton College
Clinton, New York

Dear Pieter:

The Academic Council has considered carefully the activities of Initiation Week and has asked me to pass on their reactions as follows.

1. We again commend the IFC for the courage and directness with which it attacked the problem. It seems to us that the IFC gained great stature by its actions and should as a result be a stronger and more influential body in the future.

2. We feel that in general the activities of initiation week were under reasonable control. Isolated violations of the spirit, if not the letter of the law were reported to us, but the general impression we received is favorable. We do feel that next year's Council must continue and even increase its vigilance. Only earnest and close surveillance by the Council will produce the kind of initiation week we should have.

3. We sincerely believe that only the complete elimination of

Hill Marks Winning Basketball Season

Running up a record-making, six-game winning streak in the closing weeks of the season, Coach Ken Patrick's Hamilton basketball team gained a spot in Continental athletic history this week as the first winning cage team since 1933. The blazing second semester pace, marred only by losses to RPI and Utica College, gave the Hillmen an 8 and 7 season record.

A slow first semester start can be attributed to two factors, first the loss of Peter Eckel, high scorer last year and one of the co-captains, and second, the fact that three of the starting five had never played together before. Freshman John Glezen and Frank O'Brien, along with junior, Bill Fivaz were newcomers this year. Fivaz last played in his freshman year, but had never teamed with captain John Ibach or Bob Moses.

Little can be said about the first half of the season. Queens and Harpus fell, 81-59 and 72-55, but Hobart and Middlebury managed to come from behind in the last seconds to win, 57-54 and 50-48. The other games were slanted in favor of the opposition as Williams, Norwich, and Utica took the decisions.

The first game of second semester looked little better than the first games. The Blue maintained a 10 point lead to the very end when RPI put on a final spurt to gain a 66-64 gift. Here the transformation took place. The Blue polished off Union 70-53, and then upset Hobart and Ithaca, 76-66 and 83-71. The Winter Carnival contest was a hard fought game with Stevens. The game seesawed and it was not until the last minutes that Hamilton took the lead for good.

Four days later the Continentals set a new Union Gym record by winning, 95-66. Before a large crowd of sub-freshman the next weekend, the Continentals walloped Rochester for the first winning season in a great number of years. In the last game of the season against Utica, the Utes were triumphant, 76-71.

Special praise should go to Captain Ibach for the superb games that he played this season. Ibach bore the brunt of the rebounding, especially after the in-

Was Los to Bring Bloodmobile Here

The annual Blood Bank Visit sponsored by Was Los will be held at Alpha Delta Phi Friday, March 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Last year Hamilton students donated 138 pints to the Drive and even a greater donation is expected this year. Those students who are between the ages of 18 and 21 will have to have their permission slips signed by a parent before they will be eligible to donate. These slips will be distributed by representatives of Was Los in the next few days.

Hope for Extension Speaking

In the past few years the extension speaking program of the college has become less and less effective. The Spectator believes that this program can and ought to be revised and made more active.

Every year fewer and fewer outside speaking engagements are conducted. Last semester there was not a single one. So far, there are only one or two planned for this semester.

The principal reason for this unfortunate situation is that the interest of business, professional, and service clubs in the Utica-Rome area in student discussions and speeches is declining. The Debate Club, which organizes the program, has annually contacted these clubs, and supervised publicity for extension speaking. Those men who have participated in the program have conducted themselves creditably, and have been favourably received.

Nevertheless, extension speaking is not now an important and useful activity at Hamilton. We believe that this program can be modified so that it will strengthen the tradition of Public Speaking at Hamilton, and publicize the name of the college.

The Spectator suggests, therefore, that all high schools with a forty mile radius of Hamilton be contacted, and told that the Debate Club of Hamilton College would like to present a program at one of their assemblies. This program would consist of two or three Hamilton students leading a panel discussion, on what college is like, or, possibly, several talks about various aspects of college life. The assembly could be designed to include a question period at the end.

The purpose of this program would not be to recruit students for Hamilton College, but rather to stimulate interest in college education in general. However, although the program would in no way be associated with the admissions office, it would of course, encourage students to apply to Hamilton. In this way it would indirectly complement the work of the Student Admissions Committee.

We believe that the high schools would welcome such a program. The Federal Office of Education has recently called the attention of secondary school educators throughout the country to the fact that almost one third of American graduating high school seniors fail to go to college because of insufficient interest or information. Not financial difficulty, but the lack of knowledge and enthusiasm keeps these students away from college.

Such a program as this would be mutually beneficial to the

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Perhaps the most notable event of the second semester so far has been the sudden and mysterious increase in attendance at Thursday morning Chapel. Those few hardy souls whose records bear but few absences have been given new hope, and the affair has once more become an "all-college meeting.'

No one seems to be sure just what the real function of Thursday Chapel is supposed to be, but probably the best guess is that it is sort of an "oral bulletin board;" a place where announcements of events and organizational meetings for the next week can be made. Thanks to the Student Council's establishment of a Calendar Committee last year, a college schedule that frequently became chaotic and crammed has now at least some semblance of order.

Besides the various and sundry speakers that decrease the volume of the business done at the PX between 10:40 and 10:55 on Thursday morning, the Thursday meeting is indispensable to many organizational heads, as it enables them to give publicity to their proposed club activities. Most of the schedule cramming occurs on Wednesday and Thursday night. Few meetings are scheduled on Tuesdays because of Hill fraternity meetings, and on Fridays because of the large number of students that for some strange reason seem to prefer the scenery upon other campuses to that of our own on weekends. Monday seems to be neglected partly because it gets lost in the shuffle, partly because 60 students have Philosophy papers due the next day, and partly because of the popularity of Tuesday morning exams.

We find, therefore, that Thursday chapel meetings are used to announce meetings on Thursday evening and also for the following Monday and Wednesday evenings. Six days is a long time at our ivory tower, and many a Wednesday meeting is unattended by students who have forgotten the announcement of six days before.

I wonder, therefore, if it would perhaps, be feasible for the Spectator or the Student Council to examine the feasibility of moving the Thursday Chapel to either Wednesday or Tuesday morning. I feel that if this were done, more immediate publicity would be given to Wednesday evening meetings (of which there are many), and they would consequently be perhaps better attended.

Here And There

Prowling through the desk drawers of Root 35, we found an old black note book entitled, "Subjects: P.S. 9-10, 13-14, 19-20." Inside we discovered a listing of speech topics of various students. After a quick check with the Alumni Register we learned that the book has probably been sitting undisturbed for the last 20 years.

Cornell and Skidmore have both raised their tuition. Oberlin has raised the maximum salary for full professors to $10,000 per year.

We quote verbatim a postcard which the Philosophy department received last week:

"Chairman Dep't of Philosophy:

My mimeographed Thunder in the INDEX (44pp) presents a dialectics in 3 dimentions, analogous to electromagnetic field theory.

This is the only advance in dialectical method in 3000 YEARS (since the I CHING or Book of Changes, of China).

Henry Evelyn Bliss says Thunder in the INDEX is 'a kind of poetic tour de force.'

Somehow we have been unable to sympathize with a problem that the Amherst Student has been complaining about recently. That is the inability of the Amherst man to get rapid telephone connections with Smith, and other nearby women's colleges. It seems that the social life of the average Amherst student is being restricted by the lack of telephone lines to the 3,000 girls at nearby colleges. In fact, the Smith telephone operator remarked that although Smith has 13 outside lines, "all the time is rush hour for us." At times it seems that Hamilton might be able to bear such terrible telephone service, if there were a similar number of girls' schools in our immediate neighborhood.

Foundation Members Canvassing Utica Area Industry for Private Colleges

In the past week, President McEwen was a member of a group of five college presidents and one trustee which met in the Utica area. This group of college officials visited many businesses and industries in Utica, Rome, and Oneida, on behalf of the Empire State Foundation of Independent Liberal Art Colleges, Inc., in order to explain the story of liberal arts colleges to the industries and attempt to procure financial assistance from them.

The other members of this committee were: J. Ralph Murray, president of Elmira College, Miller A. F. Ritchie, president of Hartwick College, Lewis A Froman, president of Russell Sage College, Henry T. Moore, president of Skidmore College, and Mrs. Amedeo Giordano, Trustee of the College of New Rochelle. Thomas P. Carpenter, executive director of the Empire State Foundation, joined the officials for a planning session on Monday.

All 22 member colleges of the Foundation are supported financially by student fees, endowment, and alumni gifts, but none receive tax support. The Foundation, which has existed for two years, has received gifts of $1,000 to $10,000, and a few gifts for as much as $25,000, from private industries and businesses. All contributions to the Foundation are shared by the 22 members, 60 per cent of the gifts being divided equally and 40 per cent being shared on the basis of enrollment. The goal of the Foundation is $1,500,000 per year, which "will make the difference between limiting or developing our educational resources," reports the Foundation's brochure, The Strength to Grow. The member colleges are: Alfred, Bard, Marnard, Colgate, D'Youville, Elmira, Hamilton, Hartwick, Hobart, Houghton, Keuka, Manhattanville, New Rochelle, Russell Sage, Saint Lawrence, Saint Rose, Sarah Lawrence, Skidmore, Union Vassar, Wagner, and Wells.

Keglers Triumph Twice: Tourney Planned For 19th

By Jack Freyer

During the past two months a potential varsity bowling team has been taking shape at Hamilton College. The team, still in its informal stages, has been mainly the result of the energy and organizing ability of Pete Jones and Tom Briaddy. At present the squad is composed of five regular men and one alternate, all of whom have been chosen from the intramural league. Don Pratt leads the team with a 180 average, and is followed by Earl Schemerhorn, Pete Jones, Dave Eaker, Dave Warner, and Tom Briaddy who bowls only home matches. The team as a unit is averaging a very respectable 175.

Thus far the team has had no official support from the school, either in the form of financial aid or free cuts, but has profited from the help of Gene Long, who has been serving as advisor. Despite the lack of official school assistance, the team has had a busy winter, defeating Utica twice, 9-0 and 7-0, and scheduling a match with Syracuse for tomorrow evening in Syracuse and an invitational tournament to be held March 19 at the Clinton Bowling Alleys. Syracuse and Utica College have already accepted invitations, and R.P.I., Albany State, and Mohawk Valley Technical Institute have all expressed definite interest. On March 19 each team will roll nine games during the day, with the two high teams meeting in the finals at 11 P. M. The tournament has been made possible only through the help of Gene Long and the Clinton Bowling Alleys and the generosity of the Clinton merchants, who have donated many prizes.

After the tournament a meeting will be held to set up a state bowling conference. The conference is to be organized on a handicap basis, thus giving Hamilton the opportunity to compete on equal terms with larger institutions. Syracuse, Utica College, and Hamilton have already expressed their desire to join such a conference, if a sufficient number of schools can be interested.

Pete Jones, one of the founders of the bowling team, has expressed to The Spectator his reasons for making bowling a varsity sport at Hamilton. "Bowling is the fastest growing game in America today, moreover, since competition would be under a handicap system, it is the only game where we can compete on equal terms with larger institutions . . . and, to subsidize a bowling team for a twelve match season, with adequate practice sessions, would cost well under $175."

Streak Broken As Hill Drops Finale

After insuring the first winning season for a Hamilton College basketball team in 22 years with a 69-46 win over the University of Rochester last Saturday night, Coach Ken Patrick's Blue basketeers marred an otherwise brilliant second round by dropping their season finale Wednesday nigt to Utica College, 76-71 for an 8-7 record for the 1954-55 campaign.

Hamilton wasted no time against Rochester as they jumped off to a quick lead. Playing flawless offensive ball and utilizing a 2-1-2 zone to the best advantage, the Blue lead 34-18 at the half. 24 of the points were garnered by freshmen John Glezen and Frank O'Brien.

The second half of the game was no different from the first. At one point Rochester managed to close the gap to eleven points, but John Ibach and Glezen, hitting easily from the outside, ran up a 23 point lead with minutes to play. Not even the second string could be outdone as they held Rochester even for the closing minutes.

Utica told a different story. While Hamilton used the zone she led by as much as nine points. However late in the second period, the Blue changed to a man to man defense. With this change Utica came rolling back to take a one point lead.

The game was even throughout most of the third period with Glezen and O'Brien dueling with Evans and Paparella of Utica. A sudden spurt of ten straight points put the Utes ahead 62-52. A late Hamilton surge fell short, as Glezen fouled out.

Evans was high man for Utica with 28 points, Glezen and O'Brien hit for 26 and 20 respectively.

Keogh and Tufts New Co-Captains Of Tank Team

Sophomore veteran Kevin Keogh and freshman sensation Bill Tufts were elected co-captains of the 1955-56 Hamilton College swimming team this week at a meeting of this season's squad which marked the official end of the aquatic year.

Keogh, last year's headliner for the tankmen, again turned in a steady performance as he finished among the top five team scorers. Tufts, along with setting two new swim marks for the season, averaged better than 10 points per meet in scoring.

The pair succeed co-captains Phil Hahn and Don Goss, who was sidelined by injuries this season. The Blue finmen dropped eight matches in a row.

Record setting races were turned in this year by Tufts and freshman team mate Nils Allard. The new co-captain set a new college and pool mark in the 50-yard freestyle event with a 24.3 effort against Buffalo, and in the 100-yard freestyle race against Cortland he broke the old Hamilton pool record with a 55.3 clocking.

Allard chalked up two new college times with a win in the 150-yard medley race in a flat 1:50.0 time, and in the 200-yard breast stroke contest, he lowered the mark to 2:43.6.

No opposing colleges set new records against the Blues this year.

Bob Moses, spirited playmaker and rebounder of the successful 1954-55 Hamilton College basketball team, was elected captain of next season's squad at a meeting of the club this week. Moses, a junior member of ELS, succeeds co-captains John Ibach and the inactive Pete Eckel.

TIME OUT

By Jack McMahon

It was a long, tough search, but someone has finally been found on campus who does not claim to be the hardest working person at Hamilton, although nobody could have argued much if she did say so. "She" is Mrs. Claudia Van Slyke, smiling secretary of the Alumni Gymnasium staff and caretaker of the world's most complex attendance record file.

Mrs. V terms her job "a lot of little things to do," but admitted that keeping track of every physical training class and every hour of 5-6 attendance was the longest and most tedious task. Along with this work, she records all equipment charts, serves as secretary to Athletic Director Weber and the other coaches, keeps an eye on the books in the gym library, and countless other details such as tickets for athletic contests and clipping the daily paper for Blue athletic accounts.

Mrs. Van Slyke came to work at the gymnasium "at a moment's notice" one Monday in April four years ago, took a cursory lesson in what was to be done, and then settled into her many-sided job, which she has been handling tactfully and skillfully ever since. The mother of two grown sons, she lives in Utica and drives to the Hill every day. Her only other contact with sports comes with her bowling activities; her average in the Utica Girls' A. B. C. leagues standing around 140.

When asked to name some of the top athletes she has seen during her stay at Hamilton, Mrs. V instantly chose Dick Gumerlock, backfield ace of the Blues from 1949 to 1952, as the outstanding individual player. It took a bit of thinking for her to choose an all-round man, but she at length came up with a trio, Ron Seaman, Eddie Reed, and Carl Wheeler, "though I couldn't prove why, if somebody asked me to."

Hockey Semi-finals with Baltimore Comets Battling in Eastern League

The Clinton Comets, pennant winners in the Eastern Hockey League, are in Baltimore this weekend seeking a semi-final series win against the Clippers after splitting the first two games here in Clinton. The Baltimore six nabbed the first of the thrillers Tuesday night 4-3, but the local skaters evened the series last night, 5-3 with Greg Batt notching the first two Comet goals.

Winner of the series will go against the survivor of the Washington-New Haven semi final in the championship event.

The Comets finished their regular season in a blaze of glory last weekend, winning their last three regular season games in as many days. After trimming New Haven 6-1 at home on Friday, the Comets took their first victory of the season from Belleville in the Eastern Ontario loop in Saturday's 5-4 overtime thriller. In New Haven Sunday, Clinton pushed the Blades out of second place with a 4-3 victory.

While the Comets were winding up their regular season schedules in both leagues, placing first in the Eastern Loop and sixth in the Eastern Ontario circuit, two other Clinton hockey squads were winning State titles.

Clinton Stars won the State League (Intermediate) final from the Rockets in Syracuse last Saturday night 6-3 and Clinton's Pee Wees copped the State title at Potsdam with 8-0, 8-1 and 7-0 victories over Massena, Canton and Troy.

The Pee Wees left yesterday morning for Boston to try for National honors along with seven other clubs, three more from the east and four from the west.

The Comets topped Baltimore in regular season play, winning five games to the Clippers one. Clinton scored 29 goals to 15 for their fourth place opponents.

Saturday's victory over Belleville closed the Comets' action in the Canadian loop for the season with the locals finishing up in sixth place, six games out of a playoff berth.

I-M Hockey Loop Title at Stake In Playoffs

The cancellation of games during the week has delayed the Intramural Hockey Playoffs scheduled to start last Tuesday night. The playoffs started last night.

The Buff league will be represented by Chi Psi and TKE, Chi Psi was the only undefated team in league play, compiling a 5-0 record. TKE lost only to Chi Psi during the regular season.

In the Blue league, although both teams have dropped a game, DKE is in first place, followed closely by Psi U. DKE is in first place due to the fine work of Goalie Bill Fairbairn. Fairbairn has allowed only one goal all season. Psi U, last year's champions, will be striving to make it two years in a row.

The first round of semi-final play features DKE against TKE, and Psi U against Chi Psi. The two winners of these games will play for the championship and the two losing teams meet to determine the third place team.

Hill Faces Middlebury After Norwich Loss

The Continental pucksters wind up their 1954-55 season Saturday night against the Middlebury Panthers at the Sage Rink. The finale shapes up to be a hard, rugged match. Earlier this year the Panthers dropped the Continentals 6-2 in a game that was marred by numerous penalties.

Middlebury is sharing last place in the Tri-State League with RPI. Against the Engineers, Middlebury won 7-6 and lost 7-0. The Panthers have appeared very strong against non-league opposition, although last week they dropped a 3-2 decision to Norwich. The Vermonters will be without the services of ace defenseman Bernie Bouvier, who was injured in the Williams game.

Hamilton will go into Saturday's game with a disappointing 3-10-1 record. The Continentals suffered their 10th setback Wednesday at the hands of Norwich. Coach Greg Batt expects the team to be at full strength, although Bob Regan has been inactive this past week with a knee injury.

Sparked by three second period goals by Charlie McLaughlin, the Norwich Horsemen took a 7-3 verdict from the Hillmen.

In a lethargic first period, Norwich took a 1-0 lead on a goal by high-scoring center Fern Cloutier. Hamilton had several scoring opportunities but was unable to capitalize on any of them.

Norwich broke the game open early in the second stanza, as they blasted home four shots in the first five minutes. Bruce Smith got the Continental's initial score with a hard angle shot from 15 feet out, but a minute later Dutil scored Norwich's sixth marker. At 12:27 Bevens slipped a shot behind the Norwich goaltender on a pass from Scoones. McLaughlan got his hat-trick at 15:23 for the last goal of the period.

Hamilton quickly closed the gap to 6-3 as Scoones tallied an unassisted goal at 37 seconds. The score remained 6-3 until 12:34, when Paquette scored the final goal of the evening.

DKE and Psi U hockey teams won their semifinal matches Thursday night and will play off for the championship Sunday morning at 8 a. m.

Ski Team Places Second in 4-Way Meet at Turin, N. Y.

Debbs and Phelps Pace Team to 2nd

The Hamilton College ski team scored a clean second in a four-way meet at Turin last Saturday in which Colgate placed first, and Alfred and Hobart trailed Hamilton in that order. The meet, sponsored by Colgate University, consisted of two slalom and two downhill runs. One to two inches of powder over a graular base provided excellent snow conditions.

Hap Dobbs, a returned European theater veteran, turned in a fourth in the slalom in a field of 18 contestants. Pete Phelps, speedy hopeful of the team, placed 6th. Tiger Thompson's steady performance gave his a 10th, and Jay Eveleth, usually dependable mainstay of the team, suffered falls and a penalty to finish 11th. The 30-gate slalom, set on the bumpy north slope by Snow Ridge's ski pro was won by Colgate's Austrian exchange student, Bud Frey.

The downhill was run in the afternoon on the Standard Trail. With only a few control gates, most of the competitors were able to take the bumpy course wide open. Colgate's Frey again eclipsed the field but was hard pressed by one of his own team mates and by Hamilton's Pete Phelps who placed third. The seadiness that Phelps combined with his speed in this race and in recent practice makes Pete's future as a top racer look bright. Following Phelps in the downhill for Hamilton were Dobbs (6th), Thompson (12th), and Eveleth (15th).

This meet marked the third competition of the team, organized and coached by Gene Long and Don Potter. Earlier in the season at Syracuse, the team paced by Eveleth and Captain Bob Hunt, placed fifth in a field of seven in the slalom and last in the downhill. This race included some stiff competitors including Cornell, Syracuse, and Clarkson.

The team is still smarting under the psychological effects of having been whipped by a pick-up faculty team consisting of Profs. Potter, Hawley, Rockwell, Olgivy, Hunt, and Coolidge, in a giant slalom run on the college hill at Route 20 during carnival weekend.

Baseball coach Greg Batt announces that there will be a meeting of all candidates for the 1955 baseball team next Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 in the gymnasium library. Both veterans and interested newcomers are requested to report at that time.

Coach Long's Incentive: Records Grace Gymnasium

A new paneled wooden record board for Hamilton College track and field events was erected this week in the lobby of the Alumni Gymnasium. The board, erected and lettered by track coach Gene Long, has individual panels for each of the 15 events with the present record holder's name and winning time or distance

Lacrosse Team Aided By Return Of 13 Lettermen

All over College Hill returning veterans and hopeful prospects have been taking their lacrosse sticks out of mothballs for the 1955 lacrosse season which officially open in Clinton on Tuesday, March 1.

Coach Bill Tomik, has mapped out a rigid schedule of exercise, running and stick-handling, and has hopes of taking his team outside by the first day of Spring.

The Continentals hope to better their 3 and 3 record of last year by fielding an exceptionally strong team this year. Among the forty candidates working out in the Alumni gymnasium, Coach Tomik can count on thirteen lettermen and twenty-five members of last year's team, led by co-captains Ed Reed and Wayne Mahood.

For the first time in the history of the Hamilton lacrosse, the squad will journey south this Spring vacation to meet some of the teams in the New York City area in practice games before the opening of the regular season. The tentative schedule consists of games with CCNY on March 30; Hofstra on March 31; and Adelphi on April 1. Inquiries are also being made into possible games with Tufts and Stevens Institute.

The thirteen lettermen who will be the backbone of this year's squar are: Reed, Mahood, Roger Mosher, Bill Penfield, Bob Behnke, Don Ivers, Bob Fellows, Dick Boyd, Bill Herbster, Binky Bell, Al Stripp, Chip Pickering and Dave Smalley.

The lacrosse schedule for 1955:

April 23, Hobart at Clinton
April 30, Cortland at Cortland
May 4, Middlebury at Clinton
May 7, Cortland at Clinton
May 14, Cornell at Ithaca
May 19, Union at Schenectady

jury to 6'4" Bill Fivaz, before the second Union game. Ibach was not only an ace rebounder, but a good shot from both the line and the floor. In fifteen games he tallied 227 points, an average of 15.1 points per game. Ibach graduates this year, and his loss will be severely felt.

Despite the fact that there were three other high scorers on the team, the most valuable man second only to Ibach was Bob Moses. Moses was the playmaker all season and probably the coolest man on the floor. Despite his height, considerably under six feet, he was one of the leading rebounders and feeders.

Frank O'Brien and Johnny Glezen contributed much in both offensive and defensive play. Fivaz in the 12 games that he played gave the club the added height that was needed. The four returning veterans along with Peter Eckle, if he can return, and the coming players should give the Continentals a fine outlook for next year.

Scoring:

Name	G	GF	FT	Tot.	Ave
Glezen	15	100	59	259	17.3
Ibach	15	79	69	227	15.1
O'Brien	15	89	47	225	15.0
Fivaz	12	73	26	172	14.3

Class and Charter Day, Al Shaler was put in charge of the Sophomore Sing. Dick Rubinson and Dick Finger were appointed to handle the interclass basketball game, and Bruce Smith and Dick Rockwell to take care of the hockey game.

The possibility of buying permanent spotlights to illuminate the fountain on the middle quadrangle during graduation week was also discussed.

1955 Track Team Working Out Now For Coach Long

A track team well stocked with returning lettermen reported to coach Gene Long for intensive workouts as preparations for the Spring sports schedule got into full swing this week. Sixteen letter winners, led by captain Earl Cline, are among the 35 track and field candidates who are practicing indoors daily.

Though the official season does not open until April 20 with a meet against Union, Long has slated a practice meet with Griffis Air Force Base late in the month to give his boys a little pre-season test.

Finding himself well supplied with field and shorter distance contestants, Long commented that the team "lacked balance in the longer distance races, and is weak in pole vaulters." He added that "the freshmen are unknown quantities as yet."

The trackmen began formal practice this week with the runners and jumpers working out on Monday, Wednesday and Fridays, and the field men going on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays. Every day practice for all trackmen will start in April.

Cline and Paul McGiffin are the pre-season favorites to repeat their big point-scoring roles of last year. Cline was virtually unbeaten in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and broad jump last year while McGiffin was the fifth best freshman javelin thrower in the United States last Spring with a record toss of 188' 11.5" for the Blues.

Hill's First Coed Asks Application Of Former Dean

Mr. J. Blyth
Dean
Hamilton College
Clinton, New York
U.S.A.
Dear Sir:

Understanding that your college has available scholarships, granting to the foreign students. May I take liberty to write you to apply one of them if there is a vacancy the coming year.

I am single of 27, one of the graduates of the class of 1953 of the department of geography and history of Taiwan Provincial Teachers College. Would it be possible to permit me to have a chance for further study of geology in your college.

Your kind consideration and instruction will be high appreciated.

Yours sincerely,
(Girl's name withheld)

Professor Blyth explained that the girl had probably gotten hold of an old Hamilton catalogue, published when he was Dean, shortly after World War II.

The Spectator would like to take this opportunity to inform our readers even foreign ones that it is not necessary to believe everything in the papers, especially Winter Carnival issues.

Hartshorne Slated As Last Lecturer In Morron Series

This Sunday, March 6 in the Chapel, Professor Charles Hartshorne of the University of Chicago, will be the fifth and final speaker in this year's John Herschel Morron Series, devoted to The Rationality of the Christian Faith.

Professor Hartshorne attended Haverford College from 1915 to 1917, transferring to Harvard University where he received his A.B. in 1921. In the following two years he received his M.A. and Ph.D. from Harvard. He stayed at Harvard as an instructor and Research Fellow from 1925 until 1928, when he became an Instructor in Philosophy at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Hartshorne, now Professor of Philosophy at Chicago, has written and edited numerous books and pamphlets. His first published work was The Philosophy and Psychology of Sensation, published in 1934. One of his most recent contributions to the field of philosophy and religion has been his editing of Philosophers Speak of God, a symposium dealing with the chief concepts of deity and an analysis of their theistic ideals.

The final feature of this year's John Herschel Morron Series will be a symposium on May 1, in which Professors Ducasse, Simon, Tillich, and Hartshorne, each of whom has spoken in the series, will defend the views which they have expressed during the year.

College Librarian Announces Student Library Contest

Students on the Hill who own private libraries will have an opportunity to add to their book collections by entering the Student Library Contest. Mr. Pilkington, College Librarian, said that the deadline for all entries will be April 15. On or before that date, all students who wish to enter the contest must submit a list of books in their libraries. Mr. Pilkington pointed out that these lists must be typed and must include only those books that a student actually has on the Hill.

The Peter Pauper Press of Mt. Vernon, New York, will present the winners of the contest with volumes from its Collector's Editions. The winner of the contest will receive ten volumes from the Peter Pauper Press. The runner up will receive five volumes.

pects of the book is Riesman's division of Americans into three groups according to their motivations. These are the, "tradition directed" who are largely gone, the "inner directed" who are disappearing and giving way to the third category, the "outer or other directed." An important part of the seminar will be devoted to this hypothesis and its effects upon religion.

While it has been conceded that Riesman has some excellent ideas, ccriticism of his book has been heavy. The Herald Tribune accused the book of having a, "lack lack of clarity, an overabundance of jargon, and unnecessary obscurity." Although admitting some of these complaints, Professor Riddle believes The Lonely Crowd is a valuable subject. Riesman has collected several hypotheses, some of which are supported and contain brilliant insights, and some of which lack support and are not convincing. I feel that he pushes his theories too far at times, but this serves to make the book all the more provocative," said Riddle.

The leaders of the Seminar will first discuss the book, and then will open the meeting to a general consideration. Explaining his willingness to lead the group, Riddle commented, "Ever since I first read The Lonely Crowd, I have thought that this would be a good book to talk over with a small group for an evening. Although the sociological jargon is rather heavy at times, Riesman's ideas should form the basis for an excellent Seminar discussion."

initiation trips off the Hill will remove one real potential source of trouble and we urge the IFC to work toward that end.

4. Finally, we ask this year's IFC to do all in its power to pass on to the incoming group the spirit of seeking a dignified and controlled initiation week so that continued progress may be made next year.

The Academic Council sincerely thanks the IFC for its cooperation.

'57; and Cooper Ponton, '58. Others in the cast are Billy Harvey, '56; and Bill Alford, '58.

Ward has announced that admittance will be free. There will be no advance distribution of tickets. Since the plays will be in the round, the seating capacity will be limited to approximately 200. All members of the college community and surrounding area are invited to attend. The plays will be presented as written except for a few minor technical changes. Ben Carroll, '56, has been appointed coordinator of the plays, and Joe Petrone, '58, is assisting the publicity committee.

Various members of the English department will act as judges for the contest. "So far as the library is concerned," said Mr. Pilkington, "a well chosen, unified library, even though it is small, stands a better chance than one which shows no care in selection. The committee will judge not by the number of books collected, but by the taste and discretion shown by the student in his selection of books." The committee will announce its decision sometime in May and the prizes will be awarded in that month.

Students Showing Lively Interest In Russian 'Class'

Fourteen students have shown enough interest on their own to have Assistant Professor of History, Willliam Starnes conduct classes in the Russian language.

According to Starnes, the students who are taking this entirely extracurricular class are those who recognize the value of such a course. A regular text is being used and the class meets once a week on Thursday evenings.

In view of the interest that is being shown, Starnes believes that something could be done by the administration to get a professor of Russian for the Hill in the near future. Starnes feels that the main reason that the College has not developed a Russian department is because he thinks that such a professor would not fit into the general small college community, and also there was not enough demand here to warrant the addition of another language to the curriculum.

Starnes added that, "considerable interest has been shown and I'm pleased with the progress that has taken place so far."
